Our distant and recent history shows that our nation has always lived with a sense of spiritual courage, and this great feeling is growing stronger and higher as years and centuries pass in its life. Because the spirituality of the people is such a great ocean that every generation takes strength, enthusiasm and inspiration from it and shows how great things it is capable of. While thinking about the reforms implemented in our country and the urgent tasks ahead of us in this regard, the thoughts of our great enlightened grandfather Abdurauf Fitrat that "History is a science that studies the causes of the nation's past, development and decline" inform the reader of the tax systems in our ancient history.
