Keywords: Education, teacher, alphabet, spelling, literacy, magazine, cultural, enlightenment.

In the twentieth century, the journal "enlightenment and teacher" was regarded a powerful publication. Linguistics papers have been published in the Journal.

When it comes to the sources of twentieth-century Uzbek linguistics. Q. Kadyrov featured articles written in Uzbek on the pages of Newspaper and magazine during this period, in addition to manuals, resources for language and spelling conferences.¹ In this is especially important in the magazine "Education and teacher". More than 80% of the articles published in it are about the most pressing issues of the time, such as the alphabet and spelling issues, as well as language theory, the Uzbek language's vowel and consonant system, the literary language, its history, the characteristics of Uzbek dialects, the literary language's base dialect, and phonetic laws, many of which are accurate. They did not entirely achieve the status of scientific publications, but the fact that they were based on reasoning and critical coexistence with prior works pushed them closer to scientific articles, rather than being preliminary scientific research. At the same time, the publication contains some such pieces, which are primarily concerned with the promotion of language and spelling difficulties. (reasoning on syllables is not aimed at substantiating an idea). To them it is possible to include the following:

Hoji Mu'in. History of Uzbek alphabets. 1926 year, Number 2. The article lists the pre-revolutionary and post-revolutionary declared "Master before", the hands of the literate teacher in the category "Adibi before", and some are explained.

Ashurali Zohiriy. "Kelurnoma." 1927 year, number 9-10. This article is aimed at commenting on the work of Muhammad Yaqub Changiy with this title. It is known that this work was a special research object in Uzbek linguistics.

Five-year plan for the implementation of the new Uzbek Alphabet. It reflected the plans for the introduction of the new alphabet into the school, the preparation of teachers, the publication of educational literature, the transfer of the time press to the Latin alphabet, the conduct of all works in the new alphabet from the 1927-1928 academic year, adopted in the 1st plenum of the 3rd session of the Center.

Shokir Sulaymon. The end of the first plenum of the new alphabet centerpiece. 1928 year, number 4. The article argues about the implementation of the above plan, its political significance.

Ibrohim Tohiriy. Making history Number 7 for the year 1928. The words "the Arabs Alphabet, along with religion, also poisoned the brains of our people" appear at the top of the piece, implying that it was created to strike at advocates of Arabic writing. Nonetheless, the Uzbek intelligentsia attempted to communicate as much as possible the content of German sources, namely, "history of general writing" (on which the author's work Shnestr is founded), and came to the following conclusions:

- the alphabets of the cultural peoples of the world are children of the Phoenician alphabet;
- no genius taught the alphabet, no God, the effect of ul labor is the result of interaction and struggle with nature, and is a weapon for struggle;
- an inscription with a picture with a line as a typewriter a typewriter a typewriter a typewriter with a picture;
- the whole alphabet is changing in one tone, not in a round, but in a change of ruling classes that rule in marriage and marriage.

Orif Olimjonov's report "The main points for the neighborhoods in the context of the new alphabet society "(1928, issue 8-9)," the decision of the Central Executive Committee on the implementation of the new alphabet works "(1928, issue 10)," in the field of language and spelling "(1929, issue 6)," the end of the language-spelling conference and future tasks " (1929,7-issue 8) were given information.

Chemist (S.C.in such articles as the "new alphabet" (1929, number 12), only the Latin script and the issues related to its implementation are reflected.

Of course, in the above information there is also a certain truth, a science signs, but there are also far-fetched, unreasonable thoughts from it. We believe that they need to be specially studied in the future.

The authors of the article on linguistics in the Journal are also colorful. O.Hoshimov, N.To'raqulov, R.In'omov as like statesmen, Abdurauf Fitrat, G'ozilim Yunusov, K.K.Yudaxin, Ashurali Zohiriy, Vadud Mahmud, Abdulla Alaviy, Hoji Mu'in and such personalities as Usmaniy whose personality is not determined. It's worth noting that people from various professions freely discussed the language's practical and theoretical concerns. The magazine's pages were also visited by the school's language and literary teachers. Thus, the state of the Uzbek language in the early twentieth century did not pass unnoticed by public officials, scientists, and common workers.
